DESCRIPTION: The purpose of this policy is to outline the responsibilities of both non-critical, temporary critical, and critical employees, when weather or other conditions arise that require the operating times of Harford County Government to be delayed or closed. PROCEDURE: The County Executive will designate three levels of emergencies:
- Liberal Leave
- Administrative Closure (Partial or Full Day)
- Emergency Hold Over/Call-in

DEFINITIONS

Critical Employee - Any employee who, as part of the employee’s job description, is required to respond to County emergencies outside of the employee’s normal workday.

Temporary Critical Employee - An employee who is considered a non-critical employee and is not generally required to respond to County emergencies outside of the employee’s normal workday, but who is designated for a period of time by his/her Department Head, or the Director of Human Resources, as critical, and therefore required to respond due to the nature of the emergency.

Non-critical Employee – An employee who is not required to respond to County emergencies outside of the employee’s normal workday.

Time Keeping for County Emergencies:

Liberal Leave - Non-critical employees may use personal leave, annual leave, or compensatory leave to cover late arrival or absence without prior approval. Critical employees and temporary critical employees must report to work as scheduled.

Administrative Closure - During the time that administrative closure is in effect, whether partial or full day, non-critical employees are not obligated to report to work. However, any non-critical employee who had previously arranged to utilize leave during that time will still be charged leave for the employee’s absence. On days when the County may have a delayed opening, non-critical employees must adhere to the announcement. If the announcement says that the County will open at 10:00 a.m., all non-critical employees are to report at 10:00 a.m., no matter what time their normal workday begins.

Critical employees and temporary critical employees must work their regularly scheduled shift and/or overtime as required, including call in during off duty time. Critical employees and temporary critical employees will be paid their normal rate for working their regularly scheduled shift. Critical employees and temporary critical employees working will also receive compensatory time off for hours worked during their regularly scheduled shift to compensate for the administrative closure. Except for employees occupying classifications within grades MG1 and above, critical employees and temporary critical employees will receive one-and-a-half (1 ½) times their normal rate of pay for work beyond their regularly scheduled shift. Employees occupying classifications within grades MG1 and above will be paid overtime at their normal rate of pay.

Critical employees failing to report will be required to use their own leave to cover an absence during their regularly scheduled shift, subject to approval by their supervisor (including personal leave), and MAY BE SUBJECT TO DISCIPLINARY ACTION for failing to report. Sick leave requests during this emergency may require doctors’ certificates.
Emergency Hold Over/Call-in -
When circumstances necessitate a critical employee, or a temporary critical employee, to be held over or called-in prior to or after the employee's normal shift in order to perform a service for the preservation of public safety, the employee's department head may deem that service an emergency hold over or call-in. If the department head designates such service to be an emergency hold over or call-in, critical employees and temporary critical employees occupying classifications in grades PT5 and below, will receive one-and-a-half (1 1/2) times their normal rate of pay. Employees occupying classifications in grades MG1 and above will be paid overtime at their normal rate of pay.
